The Missouri Sentencing Advisory Commission in conjunction with Judicial Education, is pleased to offer this one-day curriculum to provide an overview of the principles of evidence-based sentencing and to assist in the development of sentencing practices that improve public safety and reduce the risk of offender recidivism. At the conclusion of this curriculum, participants will be able to:

- Identify those offenders who are the most appropriate candidates for recidivism reduction strategies;
- Target conditions of probation at the relevant offender characteristics to achieve effective sentencing outcomes;
- Improve responses to violations of probation;
- Identify the components of effective probation supervision practices and treatment programs; and
- Reduce the risk of re-offense through positive interactions with offenders.

Presented by The Honorable Roger K. Warren, President Emeritus of the National Center for State Courts.
